Gellatly Cemetery and Gellatly Heritage Park Kelowna and District Genealogical Society Cemetery Recording Committee

The Kelowna and District Genealogical Society is a non-profit society dedicated to helping people research and document their past. We are located in the Okanagan Valley in the south central interior of British Columbia.

In the mid-1980s the KDGS undertook the first transcription of burial sites. Booklets recording this information were published in the early 1990s.

In 2008, the Cemetery Recording Committee of KDGS took on the task of updating all known burials in the area from Peachland to Oyama. This committee and KDGS members visited the local burial sites to transcribe and photograph gravemarkers. This project now includes church memorial plaques and isolated burials. We hope to include three small cemeteries in the Westbank area in the next publication. There are two large cemeteries in this area that we have not included in this publication: Kelowna Memorial Park Cemetery and Lakeview Memorial Gardens Cemetery. We continue to search for and document isolated burials in the Central Okanagan.

This project includes burials recorded in:

1. Gellatly Cemetery and Gellatly Heritage Park
2. Immaculate Conception Church Cemetery
3. Old Winfield Cemetery
4. Oyama Community Cemetery
5. Peachland Cemetery
6. St. Andrew's Anglican Churchyard
7. St. Theresa Cemetery
8. Westbank Cemetery
9. Winfield Cemetery
10. Small Cemeteries and Isolated or Individual Burials

Photographs of each gravemarker have been published online at The Canadian Gravemarker Gallery <<http://www.gravemarkers.ca/>> and are available from KDGS. The photography and labeling of photographs by surname has been a major portion of this project. These photographs have facilitated the proofreading process and the compilation of the written material. They are also a record of which markers exist today. Some of these markers are deteriorating and may not be legible in the future.

The Cemetery Recording Committee:

Robertson, Carolin S.

This Cemetery Recording project could not have been completed without the help and support of many KDGS members.

We appreciate the extra attention given to these maps by Arthur Green.

The Cemetery Recording Committee has undertaken to make this project as accurate and complete as possible. There will be mistakes and omissions. Please note that not everyone mentioned in this publication is necessarily buried or even deceased. As genealogists, we recognize that associated names help to identify the person we are researching. Therefore, we have included names mentioned on burial markers and often these are of surviving family members.

This is the most complete compilation of its kind to date. We want this work to be helpful to researchers and therefore will be gifting copies to major libraries and depositories as well as to representatives of the cemeteries included in this publication.

History of Gellatly Cemetery

By Robert M. Hayes – 2012

Gellatly Cemetery, a family burial ground, is located in the Gellatly Historic Park on the south side of Gellatly Road, District of West Kelowna, BC. This cemetery, set amongst pine trees, overlooks Okanagan Lake.

In 1883, David Erskine and Eliza Gellatly (Ure) and their infant son David emigrated from Scotland to Nipissing, Ontario. Ten years later, they moved to Vernon, British Columbia. The family then consisted of two sons and four daughters:

- David Gellatly: born September 1, 1882
- John Ure "Jack" Gellatly: born December 23, 1883
- Margaret "Maggie" Murray Gellatly: born August 23, 1885
- Jeannie Gellatly: born May 8, 1887
- Eliza Ure Gellatly: born February 28, 1889
- Edith Grace Darling Gellatly: born November 30, 1890

Two more children were born at Vernon and the youngest at near-by Shorts Point:

- William Ure Gellatly: born June 26, 1893
- Arthur Fairly Gellatly: born May 23, 1896
- Rae Pearl Gellatly: born November 13, 1898

David and Eliza Gellatly also adopted a son, James G. born about 1908.

David Erskine Gellatly worked as a carpenter at Vernon. In 1895, the Gellatly family moved south to Shorts Point, now known as Fintry, where they commercially grew potatoes. By 1900, they had moved to property which now includes the Gellatly Heritage Park, Gellatly Nut Farm, and adjacent properties in present-day District of West Kelowna. There, for many years, the Gellatly family grew vegetables.

Some of the earliest burials in Gellatly Cemetery are as follows:

- Eliza Ure Gellatly: died Gellatly's Landing October 21, 1910 age 21 years
- Jane Gellatly (Mason): died Gellatly's Landing April 13, 1911 age 91 years; David Erskine Gellatly's widowed mother
- Edith Grace Darling Butt (Gellatly): died Peachland, BC September 4, 1921 age 30 years
- David Erskine Gellatly: died Vernon, BC March 22, 1922 age 68 years
- Eliza Gellatly (Ure): died Westbank District, BC December 3, 1944 age 87 years

Over the years, other members of the Gellatly family were buried on this site but their graves were not marked. In 1928, "Jack" Gellatly (1883 – 1969) requested that the cemetery, 1.6 acres in size, be registered with the British Columbia Provincial Government. The cemetery was officially registered on February 17, 1930.

In the Saturday, July 20, 1985 edition of "The Kelowna Daily Courier", page 13, Arthur Fairly Gellatly (1896 – 1992) described Gellatly Family Cemetery:

The 198 – by – 200 foot piece of property on what he calls the Westbank Flat was originally part of the Gellatly estate. His grandmother on his father's side is buried there as well as his mother Eliza, his father David, his brother Jack and Jack's wife Sarah, his oldest sister Margaret and another sister Grace. The last [burial] was Jack's in 1969. In all, there have been eight burials. In recent years it [the cemetery] has become the site of many drinking parties, he says, stopping himself before he describes the participants in fuller detail. The parties apparently dismantled the wood-post fence around the graves and used it for firewood. Small signs indicating it is a cemetery have also been used for kindling. Since it is his family that is buried there, he [Arthur Gellatly] paid $600 for a survey so another fence, this one with metal posts, could be erected. Then he found out that it would cost $8,000 just for materials.

In 1996, Ferne Jean (Walde), granddaughter of David Erskine and Eliza Gellatly, undertook the project of cleaning up and beautifying the cemetery site and installing grave markers. She was assisted and encouraged by her mother Rae Walde (1898 – 2001), last surviving child of David Erskine and Eliza Gellatly. A marker inscribed with the names of David Erskine Gellatly, Eliza Gellatly (Ure), their children, and David's mother was installed in the centre of the then-unmarked burial site. Corner and side pillars and a chain fence were also installed. Individual grave markers were later added and Gellatly family memorial plaques are affixed to a large rock at the eastern edge of the park, adjacent to the cemetery.

Ashes of people not related to the Gellatly family have been interred in the well-tended flower gardens in Gellatly Cemetery. Markers show the location of these ashes. Records of burials, current and years gone by, are kept by members of the Gellatly family.
